News from Woman
Autumn 2018

Our Promise To You: To deliver a luxurious spa experience.

What a summer we have had! Beautiful, warm and humid days have conjured up childhood memories, and we've all been reminded of what Nelson summers used to be like. If you're anything like the team at Woman, you will have spent your summer holidays enjoying the great outdoors. Beach and river swims followed by long balmy evenings spent in the garden or at the local reserve, who could ask for more?

We hope you remembered to wear your sunscreen throughout this fabulous summer, but if you think you sustained some sun damage, it could be time to talk to us about an advanced facial.

If you feel like you've been back at work too long already we have lots of great offers up for grabs, come visit us and enjoy our air conditioned rooms while the temperatures stay high outside.

We hope that all of our fellow Nelson business owners who were affected by the storms and extreme high tide are back in business soon.

5 Reasons to get a facial

- 1: Your skincare products will go further – Good skincare products don't come cheap. So give your lotions and potions the best chance they can have to work their magic. A regular facial will help to maintain smooth skin and refined pores. This, in turn, will ensure your chosen skincare range is fully absorbed and is able to do its job more effectively.
- 2: Seasons change and so does your skin – If you feel you can't manage a monthly facial, you should definitely schedule a quarterly appointment. Your skin changes with the seasons and therefore has different requirements at different times of the year. Set yourself up for a season of great skin. As we head into autumn a professional facial will prepare your skin for the cooler months ahead.
- 3: Beat the ageing clock – Regular facials help to promote cell turnover and boost collagen production. They can also even skin tone and lighten dark sun spots. Yep, they can help you look younger!
- 4: Call in the professionals – At Woman Beauty Nelson we specialise and are trained in advanced skin care facials. That means that we can deal with any minor skin issues that it's not always possible for you to tackle yourself.
- 5: Confidence is beautiful – The glowing, radiant complexion that you'll enjoy from regular facials is sure to increase your self-esteem. A professional facial can often give instant results, so if you have a big event coming up, contact us for advice on the optimum time to book your facial.
